NISN Statement on Teacher Authorship and Ownership: NISN pays teachers a stipend to design curriculum over the summer. All that NISN asks in return is permission to share the curriculum you design with other schools working to Indigenize schooling for Native American students within and outside of the network, always maintaining an indication of your authorship on curriculum documents. Likewise, any individual who is exposed to work that is generated by another affiliated individual of the NISN will indicate original source authorship. This includes the provision that no one shall use another teacher or developer's curriculum for financial profit.

Assessment Goals for English Language

In the following chart, place your EL students by language proficiency level and by domain focus (speaking, listening, reading, writing) for assessing during the unit. Go to the ELD standard(s) (Grades 2-3 ELD Standards) that matches your unit, select the Key Language Use (Inform, Narrate, Explain, Argue), use the Proficiency Level Descriptors for either the Interpretive Communication Mode (Listening, Reading, and Viewing) and/or the Expressive Communication Mode (Speaking, Writing, and Representing) to narrow down to a specific focus for Discourse, Sentence, Word, and Phrase criteria to write specific goals for your students that align with the outcome for the unit.

(There are a few examples in the chart that should be removed and replaced with your own students.)

|---|---|
| Jim Thorpe's Bright Path is a moving biography of Jim Thorpe,beginning with his birth in Oklahoma on the Sac and Fox IndianReservation and ending with his success as a football player andathlete at Carlisle Indian School. His biography teaches students theimportance of perseverance and determination. In 1830, the Indian   | <ul><li>Perseverance</li><li>Determination</li></ul>                          |
| Removal Act forced the migration of eastern Indians to land westof the Mississippi River. This Indian Territory included what is nowthe state of Oklahoma. Subsequent federal policy and governmentprograms focused on assimilating Indians into the ways of whitepeople. Indian children were sent to boarding schools where theycould not practice their customs or speak their native languages. | <ul> <li>Key Equity Term(s):</li> <li>Racism</li> <li>Assimilation</li> </ul> |

Lesson plan: (Jim Thorpe's Bright Path)

PRE READING DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

- What is a biography?
- Why are biographies of interest to readers?
- What biographies have you read?
- What are some problems you have faced? How did you resolve them?
- What is excellence? What things do you excel at? Why do you think you excel at them?
- Have you ever been away from your family for more than a few hours? How did you feel?
   What do you think it would be like to go to a boarding school away from home at age six?

Activity:

- Students read Jim Thorpe's Bright Path
- Complete Graphic Organizer: Elements of a Biography

AFTER READING

- Seading Response Notebook
- Discussion Questions: Encourage students to refer back to the book to support their responses.
  - What does the author mean when he writes "The sun was in Hiram Thorpe's heart..."?
  - How did Jim get his second name? What do you think it means? Explain.
  - Does anyone call you by a special name? What is it? How does it make you feel?
  - How did Jim feel about his twin brother Charlie? How did Jim show his feelings? Provide textual evidence.
  - What were some of the skills that Pa taught the boys? Why were these important to the Sac and Fox people?
  - Why did Pa think it was so important to get an education? Do you agree or disagree with Pa? Explain.
  - How did Jim feel about his first school? Why? What caused him to run away from this school?
  - How did Jim get recruited for the Carlisle School?
  - Why did Jim stay on at Carlisle even after his father died?
  - How would you describe Jim Thorpe? What were his strongest characteristics? What were the weakest characteristics?
  - How does this book affect your thinking about prejudice and the way people are sometimes treated by others? Provide examples from the text.

Lesson plan: (Indian Shoes)

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

- In "Indian Shoes" what textual evidence shows that Ray's Grandfather is homesick? Where is he from?
- In "Don't Forget The Pants!", what are the ideas that Ray and Grampa talk about in trying to figure out what to do about their problem?
- In "Guess Who's Coming To Dinner?", what are all the things that go wrong?
- In "The Accident," what objects are mentioned that played a big role in one of the earlier stories?
- In "Team Colors," what experience does Grampa have in cutting hair?
- In "Night Fishing," whom do Ray and Grampa remember together at the lake?
- What do all of these stories have in common?
- What hints in the stories relate to Ray and Grampa's Native heritage?
- What makes a short story collection different than a novel?
- Which story was your favorite and why?
- What are the core values that are represented in the stories? Provide textual evidence to support your reasoning.

EXTENSION ACTIVITY: Read Sisters of the Neversea

• Discussion questions:

- The idea of kinship, or a family connection, is central to Native cultures. Relatives respect, care for, and support one another. How can you connect this to the Roberts-Darling family?
- Wendy and Lily travel through different environments on Neverland, an island surrounded by Neversea. Why is the forest important in this story? Are all species important for keeping nature in balance? What do you think will happen to the baby tiger cub in the future?
- Many stories include obstacles and opposing forces. In the beginning, Wendy and Lily seem at odds, but once they reunite on the island, they resolve their differences. How do they accomplish this? How can people resolve conflicts peacefully?
- Elders have an important role in our lives, as stated in an excerpt from page 170: "Michael heard stories of generations past and present from Aunt Lillian and other leaders around kitchen tables, and sometimes they all went together to community events with storytellers, too." Choose an elder from the story (Aunt Lillian; Clifford, the last Native elder on the island, etc.) and explain why they are significant to the story.
- Which character do you think achieved the most growth in a positive way? Explain why.
- Why do you think the author chose third person omniscient point of view to write this story? How does this point of view help tell an engaging tale?
- What core values are taught in this story? Explain using textual evidence.
- Compare/Contrast to Indian Shoes
